Happy 100th Birthday
National Park Service!

August 25 marks the 100th anniversary of the creation of the National Park Service (NPS). To all our colleagues at NPS, we wish you congratulations and best wishes for the next 100! Once the National Eisenhower Memorial in Washington, DC is dedicated, it will become one of the newest additions to the National Park System, joining the iconic sites of the National Mall and Memorial Parks in the nation’s capital. A fitting tribute to the General and President who deserves his place of reverence among the likes of...
Washington, Lincoln, Jefferson, and both Roosevelts.

Salute to Ford Motor Company!

The Commission extends our deep appreciation to the Ford Motor Company for their generous Legacy-Level donation in support of Ike’s Memorial. Ford’s contribution is an especially fitting way to honor Eisenhower's contributions to the Interstate Highway System - a project that, according to Ike himself, "changed the face of America."

Donations from our supporters make it possible for us to move ever closer to groundbreaking on the National Eisenhower Memorial in the heart of our nation’s capital.

Ike's Timeless Legacy

Aloha!

On August 21, 1959, President Eisenhower officially admitted Hawaii as the 50th state of the Union, simultaneously making the Eisenhower White House the first to fly the current flag of the United States. Beginning with his 1952 presidential campaign through his presidency, Eisenhower fought tirelessly to admit Hawaii to the Union.

Fittingly, it was the late Hawaii Senator and World War II hero, Daniel K. Inouye, who was an original co-sponsor of the legislation that established the Eisenhower Memorial Commission. Serving as the Commission’s Vice Chairman from 2001 until his passing in 2012, Senator Inouye championed our mission to build an enduring memorial to the Supreme Allied Commander in World War II and the 34th President. Completing the mission will also be a lasting tribute to Senator Inouye’s leadership.

federally-sponsored program introduced the concept of the “visitor center” to national parks, constructing approximately 100 within the ten-year window. Today, the image of the National Park Service, specifically its administration buildings and their distinctive modern architecture, owes much to the Mission 66 program started during the Eisenhower administration.
