WASHINGTON; JANUARY 5, 2016 – Three alumni of the Reagan Administration have joined the committee of advisors to the Eisenhower Memorial Commission (EMC) Senator Pat Roberts, Chairman of the commission, announced today in Washington.

The Advisory Committee consists of dozens of distinguished Americans, including all four former U.S. Presidents, who are dedicated to ensuring that a Presidential Memorial honoring President Dwight D. Eisenhower is constructed in Washington, D.C.

Senator Roberts welcomed Secretary Brady, Dr. Greenspan, and Senator Laxalt to the Eisenhower Memorial effort:

“We are extremely pleased that Secretary Brady has joined our effort. In addition to Secretary Brady’s service as Secretary of the Treasury under both Presidents Reagan and George H.W. Bush, he served in the United States Senate in 1982 and has been appointed to, and served with distinction on, several Presidential and Blue Ribbon commissions.

“For almost two decades, Dr. Greenspan’s valuable leadership helped steer the nation through very challenging economic times. Today, his expertise as a consultant on global economics and finance is highly valued by both nations and corporations.

“Senator Laxalt served as both Governor and Senator from Nevada, serving that state with great dedication and distinction. He played a significant role on the national stage as a leader of the conservative movement and as an advisor and confidant of President Ronald Reagan.”

Secretary Brady, Dr. Greenspan and Senator Laxalt join numerous distinguished Americans who serve on the EMC’s Advisory Committee, which includes Co-Chairmen, General P.X. Kelley, USMC (Ret.), former Chairman of the American Battle Monuments Commission and 28th Commandant of the United States Marine Corps, and Frank
